LIVES WERE IN PERIL

Many Narrow Escapes From a Tenement House Fire.

HEROIC WORK OF FIREMEN

Scantily Clad, Tenants in New York Crowded the Fire Escapes and Were With Difficulty Saved from Death. Two Fatally Injured.

New York, Feb. 28.—Two persons were burned so severely that they may die, a dozen more were severely hurt, and scores were rescued from perilous positions by firemen in two early morning fires Thursday.

Although in widely separated sections of the city, it is believed that both fires were of incendiary origin.

The fire in which many were injured was in a tenement house at 43 East First street. The flames were first noticed on the third floor at 2 o'clock in the morning. The families occupying on the upper floor were awakened, but the fire had spread through the third floor, cutting off all escape by the stairways. Even before the firemen arrived the fire escapes were crowded with scantily clad and badly frightened men and women, many of them carrying children in their arms.

So closely were the tenants crowded on the fire escapes that the openings were choked and they remained there helpless until the firemen raised ladders and took them down to the sidewalk.

Several persns who were caught by the rush of flames on the third floor were badly burned.

Calegro Barratte and his daughter, Anna, aged twelve, inhaled flames and are in a critical condition. Several others who were taken to a hospital suffering from burns and bruises will recover.

The second serious fire was in an apartment house at 247 East One Hundred and Fortieth street. Forty persons were removed from the building by policemen and firemen.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Fire early on Thursday partially destroyed a three-story stone apartment building at 550-70 Forty-Seventh street, and caused a panic among the tenants, several of whom were rescued by policemen. Among those who were assisted out of the building were the members of two families of deaf mutes who were sleeping in their rooms, unaware of any danger.

The damage was estimated at about $20,000.

SPEEDY TRIAL FOR ALIO.

Father Heinrich's Slayer Carried from Colorado Springs to Denver.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 28.—Guiseppe Alio, the Italian anarchist who murdered Father Leo Heinrichs at the altar during communion service in St. Elizabeth's church here Sunday last, was brought back from Colorado Springs Thursday, where he had been taken to prevent lynching.

Accompanied by four detectives from Denver and closely handcuffed, Alio rode the entire trip with head averted and in sullen silence.

Upon arrival here he was hustled into an awaiting cab and swiftly driven to the county jail.

According to Alio's statement made through an interpreter, he will plead guilty when arraigned and offer no defense for his crime. In this case it is expected his trial will come to a speedy end and sentence be pronounced.

Match With "Tommy" Burns.

New York, Feb. 28.—It is the intention of "Jack" Johnson, the negro heavy weight pugilist, to accept the offer of a syndicate of British sportsmen for a match with "Tommy" Burns in England, according to an interview with Johnson published here.

Surveying Railroad Line.

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 28.—A party of surveyors has been at Mobile and about there for some days and the report is revived that the St. Andrews Bay and Gulf railroad, once before projected, is to be built this year.

ROAD IN RECEIVER'S HANDS.

International and Great Northern, a Gould Line, Forced to Wall.

Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 28.—On petition of the Mercantile Trust company of New York, trustee for a large number of bondholders, United States Circuit Judge A. P. McCormick, of the northern district of Texas, Wednesday afternoon appointed Judge T. J. Freeman, of Dallas, receiver for the International and Great Northern Railroad company, fixing his bond at $50,000.

The petitioners allege that the road has defaulted in the payment of interest to the extent of $404,620 on bonds; that it is insolvent and unable to meet its operating expenses and obligations, and then defray the costs of improvements now under way. The railroad company, through its general solicitor, filed its consent to the appointment of a receiver.

The International and Great Northern is a Gould line, and recently underwent reorganization, when Leroy T. Price was superseded by Horace Clarke as general manager. The reports of the Texas railroad commission show the road to have been in financial difficulties for over a year.

WAR TO THE KNIFE.

President Roosevelt Will Continue the Campaign Against Corruption.

Washington, Feb. 28.—That there will be no let-ups of President Roosevelt's policy of warring against "rottenness and corruption," was emphatically declared by the president on Wednesday in an address to the delegates of the department of superintendence of the National Educational association during their reception at the White House. Continuing, the president gave his views on educational methods at considerable length, and with characteristic vigor and expression.

At Wednesday's business session of the association Oklahoma City was selected as the next meeting place, and officers were elected as follows:

President, W. H. Elson, Cleveland, O.; first vice president, David D. Johnson, Rock Hill, S. C.; second vice president, Miss Ida Render, of Buffalo, N. Y.; secretary, A. C. Nelson, of Salt Lake City, Utah.

LOCAL OPTION WINS.

Ohio Towns to Vote on Question of Whisky or No Whisky.

Columbus, O., Feb. 28.—After more than two hours' debate the house Wednesday passed the county option bill introduced and championed by Senator Isaiah B. Rose, of Washington county. The measure will now go to the governor and it is generally expected that he will sign it.

The bill, as it will become a law, provides that elections may be held in any county to vote on the question of banishing saloons upon petition of 35 per cent of the qualified voters.

Favors Parcels Post.

Washington, Feb. 28—Judge J. M. Griggs reviewed at length in a speech in the house Wednesday on his parcels post bill the gradual development of the rural free delivery service during the eleven years he has been a member of the committee having charge of the postal service. He said he believed in the economical administration of the postoffice department, but was not convinced that it was necessary that this department, which conveyed so many blessings to the great majority of the people, should be self-supporting.

Club is Boosting Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 28.—In addition to boosting Montgomery in every way, the Commercial club of Montgomery has begun a boom for the state, the slogan being "four millions in 1919." That year will see the state 100 years old and the centennial is to be celebrated in a proper way. It is believed that the 4,000,000 can be had if there is a pull together for it.

Penal Code Bill Passed.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The penal code bill revising and codifying the criminal laws, which has been before the senate almost since the beginning of the session, was passed by that body Wednesday.

NIGHT RIDERS' RAID

Latest Depredation In Vicinity of Hopkinsville, Ky.

TORCH APPLIED TO HOME

Detail of Troops Was Hastened to the Scene of the Depredation, But the Riders Had Disappeared Before Troops' Arrival on Scene.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Feb. 28.—Night Riders early Thursday morning set fire to the residence of Broussais Gregory, one mile west of Hopkinsville, and fired guns into the bedroom in which Mr. Gregory, his wife and baby were sleeping.

GOVERNORS WILLSON AND PATTERSON AND A NIGHT RIDERS' RAID.

Mrs. Gregory was shot at as she telephoned into town but was not hit.

The residence was burned to the ground with its contents.

A detail of Middlesboro troops, on guard here under Major Albrecut, hastened to the scene but the night riders had disappeared.

The band left a note accusing Gregory of violating his pledge to the association.

The raid was made in defiance of the grand jury impaneled this week, and specially charged to investigate alleged night rider lawlessness.

TROOPS WERE RUSHED,

But Night Riders' Expected Visit Failed to Materialize.

Batavia, O., Feb. 28.—The expected visit of night riders who threatened to burn the tobacco barn of George Rice at Neville did not materialize Wednesday night and the local company of Ohio national guards who were rushed there, returned to this city.

Mr. Rice is an independent buyer, and received warning from Cincinnati Wednesday that night riders had planned to burn his warehouse during the night.

Neville is located on the Ohio river and in the heart of Clermont county's white burley tobacco district. Across the river in Kentucky is a similar district.

Priest is Badly Burned.

Baltimore, Feb. 28.—Father Thomas C. Stapleton, chaplain of St. Francis Convent, is in a hospital suffering from burns resulting from a futile attempt to save his sister, Mrs Mary Murphy, a widow, from being burned to death at their residence. Mrs. Murphy was preparing to retire and in some way set fire to curtains in her room and then to her clothing. Her cries brought her brother, but not in time for him to save her life.

PILOT "JIM BLEDSOE" DEAD.

Believed To Have Been Hero of John Hay's Famous Poem.

Dakota, Minn., Feb. 28.—The body of John Jones, famous as the "Jim Bledsoe" of the Upper Mississippi river, was laid to rest here Wednesday. Jones' experience was so similar to that of the hero of John Hay's famous poem that many believe that he was the inspiration of it.

Jones was the pilot of the ferryboat Warsaw, which transferred passengers from LaCrosse to the Minnesota side of the river in the period just after the civil war.

About twenty years ago the Warsaw caught fire while in the middle of the channel with several hundred passengers aboard, but Jones headed the vessel for an island in the center of the river, and in the words of the poem, "held her nose agin the bank until the last galoot's ashore." He was then obliged to make his own way to land through the burning boat. Although he received serious injuries, he survived and died of old age.

SHORE LEAVE SOON ENDS.

Jack Tars Must Again Take Up Routine Sea Duties.

Lima, Feb. 28.—Lima is regretting that the stay of the American fleet is drawing to a close, and the visiting sailors and officers are sorry that in two short days shore-leave and entertainment will give place to the routine duties of the fleet at sea.

The entertainments have been constant, brilliant and the sailors have enjoyed their excursions and shopping expeditions, and they have maintained the reputation that the man afloat has for spending his money when he is ashore.

The shopkeepers, fruit venders and curio dealers have reaped a rich harvest. Thousands of men had liberty but there has been no unpleasant incident or clash with the people of either Callao or Lima. There was an informal reception on board the battleship Connecticut Wednesday afternoon followed by a supper and dancing which lasted until midnight.

FIERCE BATTLE AT BRONX ZOO.

Visitors Witness Exciting Contest Between Two African Gnus.

New York, Feb. 28.—Visitors at the Bronx zoological gardens Wednesday witnessed a fierce battle between two gnus from Africa, who, as cage mates, have, according to the keepers, not been on friendly terms for some time.

Standing in opposite corners of the long cage, the gnus rushed at each other with terrific force. When their horns became locked, they dug at each other with their sharp hoofs and wrestled about the floor. The victor was the gnu which the keepers, apparently in a prophetic vein, had named "Klondyke." His opponent, "Klondyke," was found, when the two animals were separated, to have lost eight inches of one of his horns and to be badly injured. It is expected he will recover from the injuries received.

Bonds Transferred to Countess.

New York, Feb. 28.—New York city bonds valued at $540,000 formerly held in the name of the estate of Cornelius Vanderbilt, were Wednesday transferred on the books of the finance department of the city to Countess Gladys Szechenyi, formerly Miss Gladys Vanderbilt. It is arranged that the interest on the bonds shall be paid to the countess's order through a bank in Budapest, Hungary. The bonds form a part of the countess' share of her father's estate. It is said that other bonds aggregating in value between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 will be transferred to her.

$10,500 Given for Franchise.

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 28.—The Montgomery franchise in the Southern baseball league was sold Wednesday to local men by the Montgomery Traction company for approximately $10,500. The Montgomery Baseball company will be formally incorporated with $20,000 capital. The transfer of the franchise will not affect the baseball situation except to put it on a surer footing. The contract provides that games shall continue to be played at Capitol Heights park for a term of years.

OPTIMISM PREVAILS

Ruling Spirit In the Wholesale District of New York.

PROSPERITY FAST RETURNING

Managers of Large Mercantile Houses Freely Express the Opinion There Will Soon Be a Complete Restoration to Anti-Panic Conditions.

New York, Feb. 28.—In view of the recent presence in this city of nearly 4,000 retail buyers and the expected arrival of another delegation no less numerous, optimism seems to be the ruling note in the wholesale district.

Opinion was freely expressed by proprietors and managers of large houses that the prosperity of the country was fast returning to its old level and that the retail merchants of the large cities and towns of the country need only a little more confidence to induce them to place orders on the scale prevalent just before the panic.

Merchants were practically agreed that their business was returning to its old standard more quickly than they had anticipated, indications pointing, many of them thought, to a spring trade not far from normal, with prospects of complete restoration to anti-panic conditions before many months.

INLAND WATERWAYS.

President Roosevelt Sends Message to Congress Relating to Same.

Washington, Feb. 28.—President Roosevelt sent to congress on Wednesday the preliminary report of the inland waterways commission, and sent with it a message in which he pointed out the great value of the work performed by the commission and the necessity of a comprehensive plan of action for the future development of the waterways of the United States.

President Roosevelt points out that no work should be begun until the funds necessary to complete it are available, but that work once begun should be pushed steadily and vigorously until it is completed.

In his opinion the greatest return from the improvement of the inland waterways will come from the increased commerce, growth and prosperity of the people.

PREFERRED DEATH TO WORK.

Body of Negro Convict Found in the Mines.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 28.—The badly decomposed body of Lee Garrett, a negro convict, sent up from Butler county on Dec. 13 on a charge of vagrancy, was found in shaft No. 3, Pratt mines dead. The negro had declined to work.

Two days after being entered on the prison records in December he was missed and a report made that he had escaped. A terrible odor in an isolated part of the mines led to the discovery of the badly decomposed body. The negro had evidently lain down, with his head on his arm, and waited patiently for death rather than work.

FIRE IN 'PHONE EXCHANGE.

Girls Were Thrown Into Panic—Firemen Overcome by Smoke.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Two girls fainted and forty-eight other telephone operators in the main exchange of the Chicago Telephone company were thrown into a panic Thursday when smoke entered the building from an adjacent five-story brick structure where a fire was discovered in the basement.

Four firemen were slightly overcome by smoke. The damage is estimated at $40,000.

Priest Dead; Matin Bell Silent.

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 28.—When the morning bell of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church failed to ring at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning, priests investigating found Father Joseph Landa, who had attended to this duty every morning for twenty years, dead in his room. The dead man was a native of Spain and was fifty-seven years of age.

TROUBLES OF YOUNG COUPLE.

Wanted to Wed, But Judge Mason Refused License.

There is an old adage that everybody have their troubles, and this truth was demonstrated to a certain extent Thursday, when a young couple presented themselves at the office of Judge H. G. Mason to secure a marriage license, which was refused.

"How old are you, my little Miss?" queried the Judge, as he looked suspiciously over his galsses, viewing the prospective bride from head to foot with caution.

"Fifteen, sir," was the prompt reply.

"How old are you, my boy?" queried Judge Mason, addressing the young man, tall and handsome, but with rather a youthful expression.

"I am sixteen, your honor," replied the young man, more bashful than the girl.

"Well, it becomes my painful duty to have to inform you that I can issue no license or perform no ceremony without the written or verbal consent of your parents," he remarked to both.

The young people were apparently anxious to get "spliced," as they assured the Judge that there was no objection on either side, and they presented friends to vouch for their statements; but this did not satisfy the official who explained that, however much he would like to accommodate them, it was against the law—and against his principle also—to unite in the holy bonds people of such youthful and probably indiscreet age.

A SERIOUS MISFORTUNE.

During Play at Micanopy a Horse Was Mortally Wounded.

A strange and serious misfortune occurred at Micanopy on Wednesday night, which is marked for its peculiarity, and from the effect of which M. J. Ward of Tacoma may lose a fine horse.

The King Dramatic Company was playing in the Micanopy opera house, and during the action of the play it became necessary to use fire arms. These arms are supposed to be loaded with blank cartridges, but in this instance it is said that a mistake was made. When the chamber of one of the pistols used was discharged it is stated that it happened to be loaded with a ball cartridge. The ball went through a window and into the street, striking Mr. Ward's horse in the shoulder and inflicting a painful and probably serious wound.

This affair is greatly regretted, not only by friends of Mr. Ward, but by the members of the company also.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The high school has at last succeeded in organizing an up-to-date and interesting literary society. It has not yet been named, but we can promise the people of Gainesville that it will be a credit to any name we give it.

At present we have about thirteen members but every one of us works with heart and soul to improve our society, as well as ourselves. We met Wednesday afternoon for the first time and carried out an excellent program, as follows:

Paper, "How We Can Improve Our Society"—Henry Baker.

Piano solo—Miss Ida McDonald.

Debate—"Resolved, that a 'nagging' wife is worse than a drunken husband." Affirmative, Tom McBeath, Dallas Bowers. Negative, Miss Evelyn Collins, Sam Mixson.

Recitation—Miss Katie White.

High-School Locals—Earle Taylor.

Our President, Henry Baker, makes an excellent official. He presided in an easy, graceful manner. He read us an excellent paper.

Miss McDonald's piano solo was very fine, indeed.

The negative side put up a debate that was very strong, indeed, but the decision of the judges gave the verdict to the affirmative, two to one.

Miss White's recitation was really of a high-class of elocution. This young lady has been a great addition to our Senior Class.

Earle Taylor "got off" several clever jokes on the different members of the society.

We will soon be in a position to invite the public to attend our meetings and we will arrange several programs and debates on important questions of the day, and will promise a treat to all who come.

A STUDENT.

Notice.

We take this means of notifying our friends and customers that on and after March first, 1908, the Gainesville branch of Clark and Co. will be discontinued. On account of the heavy expense of maintaining a wire, combined with the complete apathy speculatively, we have found that the Gainesville branch will not pay operating expenses.

The Jacksonville office will, however, continue to do business at the old stand, 16 Laura street, Jacksonville, and we hope that our friends and customers will not hesitate to call us up over long distance telephone, at our expense, when disposed to make a trade.

All open accounts of the Gainesville branch have been transferred to the books of the Jacksonville office.

Thanking all for past courtesies and hoping for a continuance of your patronage, we beg to remain, yours with very best wishes,

CLARK & CO.,
(Gainesville Branch.)

Gainesville, Fla., Feb. 28, 1908.

Friday's Fire.

An alarm of fire was turned in at 11:15 o'clock Friday morning, which summoned the department to the residence occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Hays, West Masonic street.

There was little damage, as the flames were quickly extinguished.

The origin of the fire was from a defective flue.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

The Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

THE DAILY SUN, published every morning except Monday, delivered by carrier in the city, or mailed to any part of the United States, postage free, for $3 a year; $2.50 six months; $1.25 three months; or 50 cents for five weeks—strictly in advance.

Reading notices in local column 10 cents a line for first insertion, and 5 cents for each additional insertion.

Rates for display advertising made known on application.

The Twice-a-Week Sun is an eight-page, forty-column paper, published every Monday and Thursday, and contains all the news of the week, local, State and general, and will be mailed, postage free, to any part of the United States or Canada, for $1.00 a year—in advance.

All advertising bills become due after first appearance of advertisement, unless otherwise stipulated in contract. Parties not known to us will be required to pay for advertising in advance. Address, THE DAILY SUN,
GAINESVILLE, FLA.

This being the key-note day of "leap year," it is well to answer some of the business "proposals" contained in the ads.

Milton H. Smith, president of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, is evidently a candidate for the Ananias Club. He has written a sharp response to the President's recent letter about wage-reduction.

One of the three livery stables in Gainesville would find it profitable to keep an advertisement in The Sun. We often have inquiries regarding this class of business, to which we invariably reply, "for desired information see The Sun."

The "extra day" which "Father Time" gives us this year is, in effect, 24 hours of opportunity—of chances to accomplish things. Why not devote some of it to advertising—to reading and answering ads., and to devising ads. that will promote your interests?

The people of Alachua county refuse to become "enthused" over politics so early in the game. The farmers are busy preparing their land for planting, and those engaged in commercial pursuits are attending strictly to their business affairs, both classes leaving the discussion of politics to the office-seekers and loafers.

Governor Cummins of Iowa has defeated the Allison-Shaw combination, and will control the delegates to the National Convention. Congressmen Cousins and Birdsall, both standpatters, have fallen by the wayside, and now announce they will not be candidates for renomination. The "Iowa idea" that the tariff fosters trusts is evidently coming to the front again.

If there are those who doubt that the victories of peace equal to those of war, let them consider the events attending the triumphal march of our battleship fleet. Even the pomp and gaiety of the pink teas given the officers at Rio de Janeiro and Callao are to be surpassed by the functions that Australia has in store for them, the premier says, if the fleet will kindly call there.

The new Hill building, which is now occupied by The G. W. Hyde Dry Goods Company, is the finest building in any interior town in Florida. It attracts the attention and favorable comment of visitors from every section of the Union, and Mr. L. L. Hill is to be commended for his public spirit, as well as the confidence manifested in the future of Gainesville, by the erection of such a handsome structure. The Sun wishes The Hyde Company increased prosperity in its handsome new quarters.

The Sun is reliably informed that Congressman Sparkman will not be a candidate for United States Senator. When he seriously considered opposing Senator Mallory for re-election it is stated that he received no encouragement whatever from certain politicians, but since the death of Senator Mallory he has been urged to become a candidate for the Senate, and he now declines to "pull the chestnuts out of the fire" for them. The race is thus left to Bryan, Beard, Brown, Fletcher and Lamar, and "you pays your money and takes your choice."

BEAUTIFYING FLORIDA TOWNS

BY JOHN BELLING
Florida Agricultural Experiment Station

It pays for a town to be noted for its handsome trees, or for the flowering shrubs in its gardens and public squares—this has an effect on the increase of trade and on the rise in real estate; it pays for a house to be surrounded by a well-kept lawn and by equally well-kept shrubs and flowers. Such things have an influence on its selling value; it pays for a railroad company to make its depots attractive by planting palms, hardy bamboos, or flowering shrubs about them—for often all that travelers see of a town is the depot, and the idea of the town which stays in their memory is just what they have noticed as they passed by. At a trifling expense a railroad journey in Florida might be made nearly as attractive as a similar journey in Japan.

A citizen of a Florida town might perhaps regard himself as owing it to the general welfare of his town to ornament his house-lot with neatly-kept shrubs and flowers, as well as with a smaller or larger stretch of green lawn. If everyone did his own part the combined result would be surprising.

It is usually a mistake to have a large tree in a small garden; its roots exhaust the soil, and its foliage obstructs the light. Shrubs in a garden should be spaced according to their individual needs, so that each has its due share of the soil. To be well suited for general use in our gardens, a flowering shrub should be (1) easy to multiply by cutting, (2) a quick grower so that it soon flowers, (3) flowering nearly all the year, (4) not much injured by any frosts which occur here, and (5) ornamental when not in bloom.

The oleander, if well pruned and manured, seems to meet these requirements for Florida perhaps better than most other flowering shrubs, though in the North it may be damaged by frosts in exposed situations. Leafy cuttings make roots readily in sand or even in bottles of water. The plants will flower well in the third year. Their foliage is ornamental, evergreen, and not injured by caterpillars. The single or double flowers of good varieties are in long-lasting clusters of a pink, red, white or cream color, and strongly or delicately scented. When the long stems are regularly pruned back after flowering, the shrubs grow bushy and dome-shaped, and produce many spreading branches, so as to hide the bare stems down to the ground. A row of choice oleanders, six feet or more apart, well-manured, well-watered and well-pruned (especially the last), will cost but little, and will have a highly ornamental appearance along a fence or path.

The everblooming roses are naturally favorite flowering shrubs in Florida. Roses will not bloom plentifully unless well-supplied with manure and water. Their rather unsightly branches must be kept within bounds by cutting out all that are too thin or too old to bear good flowers, and by shortening others whose too rapid growth tends to give the bushes a ragged look. When planting a young rose, a hole at least four feet square and two feet deep should be dug, and filled in with a mixture of leaf-mould or well-rotted manure, good soil, wood-ashes, and a handful or two of basic phosphate and of sulphate of potash. The surface should be well manured at least once a year. To water rosebushes in the dry season, make a ridge round about each bush, two or more feet away. Then let the water run in, until the soil is saturated as far down as the deepest roots; which may require half an hour or more for each bush. This may be done once or more times a week, but not every day. Rose cuttings can usually be rooted in sand with the greatest ease, hence anyone can fill a garden with rosebushes at no expense. Of those roses he has tried in hot climates, the writer prefers La France, Golden Gate, Perle des Jardins, Meteor, Etoile de Lyon, Maman Cochet, Helen Gould and Cornelia Cook.

The crape myrtle is another flowering shrub well adapted to the whole of Florida. It can be readily multiplied by leafy cuttings in sand; it begins to bloom when quite young, and the warmer the climate the more nearly continuous is its bloom. But its tendency to send up long straight sticks with the flowers on the top must be kept back by pruning, if a well-shaped shrub is to be grown. When pruned from the start, it becomes thickly branched, and covered with bloom below as well as above. The pink, red, and white varieties make an ornamental hedge-row when planted fairly close together and kept well trimmed, watered, and manured.

The large-flowered jasmine (Catalonian or Royal jasmine) will grow from Jacksonville to Key West, and stands several degrees of frost. It can be readily multiplied by leafy cuttings ripe enough to show leafbuds distinctly. Its white flowers, from which the inimitable jasmine perfume is extracted, scent a garden deliciously on summer evenings. If its long trailing stems are pruned every year, it may be grown as an upright shrub, and flowers most abundantly.

These four flowering shrubs require all the sunlight they can get, even in Florida, and should not be planted so close to the north, east, or west sides of a house as to be in shade for part of the day. A sufficient number of flowering shrubs, well provided with light, water and fertilizers, and judiciously pruned, will beautify any garden; especially when alocasias, ferns, hardy bamboos and palms are planted to form a background.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SHORT STATE ITEMS

John Jones, the negro who killed his wife in St. Petersburg last summer, has been sentenced to 99 years in the penitentiary. This means that he will spend the rest of his days in the convict camps.

A boiler exploded with direful results at the sawmill of H. D. McLeod two and a half miles below Durant, Fla., instantly killing him and seriously wounding his son, Joe Tucker, Jr., and several employees of the mill.

H. H. Long of Bluff Springs was found dead in his bed Wednesday morning by his two sisters, Misses Martha and Jane Long, each of whom is deaf and dumb. The deceased had complained of severe pains about the heart for several years.

The little 18-months-old child of Conductor and Mrs. Martin Merritt of Pensacola was burned to death. The child was playing in the room with a chair and knocked the legs from under the stove, when the fire fell out on the floor and set fire to the child's clothing.

The office of B. F. Dillon, superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company, in Jacksonville, was broken into Wednesday night and $215 in cash was taken from a drawer of a desk. The robbery occurred while the chief clerk and other members of the office force were at supper.

Albert LeRoy Hiscock of West Palm Beach, who in his sleep walked out of a second-story window at a Jacksonville boarding-house a year ago last summer, died last Sunday. After the accident in Jacksonville, where he was attending the Massey Business College, he became entirely paralyzed, and was only kept alive through the skill of his physicians.

In the United States circuit court, Judge Locke presiding, the Pullman Company is being sued by W. F. Hunt for $3,000 damages. The cause of this action, as averred in plaintiff's petition, was that in the month of February, 1906, he took passage on a Pullman car from Port Tampa to Jacksonville. He had his regulation Pullman ticket, and that after staying in the car in the berth assigned him, all night, he was denounced next morning by the car's conductor as an imposter, and turned over to an alleged detective in Jacksonville, for a short while. Hence his action for damages.—Tampa Times.

All the Gold IN GEORGIA Could not Buy-

Roding, Ga. August 27, 1906.
Messrs. E. C. DeWitt & Co.,
Chicago, Ills.

Gentlemen:—
In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. Some physicians told me it was Dyspepsia, some Consumption of the Lungs, others said consumption of the Bowels. One physician said I would not live until Spring, and for four long years I existed on a little boiled milk, soda biscuits, doctors' prescriptions and Dyspepsia remedies that flooded the market. I could not digest anything I ate, and in the Spring 1902 I picked up one of your Almanacs as a poor emaciated Dyspepsia wreck will grasp at anything, and that Almanac happened to be my life saver. I bought a fifty cent bottle of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and the benefit I received from that bottle ALL THE GOLD IN GEORGIA COULD NOT BUY. I kept on taking it and in two months I went back to my work, as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. I still use a little occasionally as I find it a fine blood purifier and a good tonic.
May you live long and prosper.
Yours very truly,
G. N. CORNELL.

BRAINED WOMAN WITH AN AX.

Aged White Woman Was Brutally Murdered by Negro Robber.

Columbia, S. C., Feb. 28.—Mrs. Paul D. Elser, an aged white woman who resides at Cayce, a station about two miles from Columbia, was brutally murdered early Wednesday morning by an unknown negro while engaged in her household duties. The motive of the assassin was robbery.

Seeing Mrs. Elser leaving the house the negro thought she was alone. Creeping up behind her, he brained the aged woman with an ax. Wrapping her body in a quilt and throwing it upon a bed, he proceeded to rob the house, taking away a number of articles.

Negroes are aiding the authorities in searching for the murderer.

THE PRESIDENT ON WATERWAYS

Sends Message to Congress Transmitting Inland Commission's Report.

SUBJECT OF GREAT IMPORTANCE

Results To Be Gained by the Development of Our Inland Waterways.

Commerce Driven from the Mississippi River by Unregulated Railways.

Duties of the Government in Securing the Largest Possible Use of Our Waterways—Commission's Report Praised.

President Roosevelt sent to congress a message accompanied by the preliminary report of the inland waterways commission, the substance of which has already been published. The president tells congress that unusual care has been taken in compiling the report and that the subject with which it deals is of the utmost importance both to the present and the future of our country. The message follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

I transmit herewith a Preliminary Report from the Inland Waterways Commission, which was appointed by me last March in response to a widespread interest and demand from the people. The basis of this demand lay in the general and admitted inability of the railroads to handle promptly the traffic of the country, and especially the crops of the previous Fall.

This report is well worth your attention. It is thorough, conservative, sane, and just. It represents the mature judgment of a body of men exceptionally qualified, by personal experience and knowledge of conditions throughout the United States, to understand and discuss the great problem of how best to use our waterways in the interest of all the people. Unusual care has been taken to secure accuracy and balance of statement. If the report errs at all it is by overconservatism. It contains findings or statements of fact, a number of specific recommendations, and an account of inquiries still in progress, and it is based in part on statistics and other information contained in a voluminous appendix. The subject with which it deals is of critical importance both to the present and the future of our country.

Rivers Poorly Developed.

Our river systems are better adapted to the needs of the people than those of any other country. In extent, distribution, navigability, and ease of use, they stand first. Yet the rivers of no other civilized country are so poorly developed, so little used, or play so small a part in the industrial life of the nation as those of the United States. In view of the use made of rivers elsewhere, the failure to use our own is astonishing, and no thoughtful man can believe that it will last. The accompanying report indicates clearly the reasons for it and the way to end it.

The Commission finds that it was unregulated railroad competition which prevented or destroyed the development of commerce on our inland waterways. The Mississippi, our greatest natural highway, is a case in point. At one time the traffic upon it was without a rival in any country. The report shows that commerce was driven from the Mississippi by the railroads. While production was limited, the railways, with their convenient terminals, gave quicker and more satisfactory service than the waterways. Later they prevented the restoration of river traffic by keeping down their rates along the rivers, recouping themselves by higher charges elsewhere. They also acquired water fronts and terminals to an extent which made water competition impossible. Throughout the country the railways have secured such control of canals and steamboat lines that today inland waterway transportation is largely in their hands. This was natural and doubtless inevitable under the circumstances, but it should not be allowed to continue unless under careful Government regulation.

Requires Intelligent Regulation.

Comparatively little inland freight is carried by boat which is not carried a part of its journey by rail also. As the report shows, the successful development and use of our interstate waterways will require intelligent regulation of the relations between rail and water traffic. When this is done the railways and waterways will assist instead of injure each other. Both will benefit, but the chief benefit will accrue to the people in general through quicker and cheaper transportation.

The report rests throughout on the fundamental conception that every waterway should be made to serve the people as largely and in as many different ways as possible. It is poor business to develop a river for navigation in such a way as to prevent its use for power, when by a little foresight it could be made to serve both purposes. We can not afford needlessly to sacrifice power to irrigation, or irrigation to domestic water supply, when by taking thought we may have all three. Every stream should be used to the utmost. No stream can be so used unless such use is planned for in advance. When such plans are made we shall find that, instead of interfering, one use can often be made to assist another. Each river system, from its headwaters in the forest to its mouth on the coast, is a single unit and should be treated as such. Navigation of the lower reaches of a stream can not be fully developed without the control of floods and low waters by storage and drainage. Navigable channels are directly concerned with the protection of source waters, and with soil erosion which takes the materials for bars and shoals from the richest positions of our farms. The use of a stream for domestic and municipal water supply, for power, and in many cases for irrigation must also be taken into full account.

For National Defense.

The development of our inland waterways will have results far beyond the immediate gain to commerce. Deep channels along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and from the Gulf to the Great Lakes will have high value for the national defense. The use of waterpower will measurably relieve the drain upon our diminishing supplies of coal, and transportation by water instead of rail only will tend to conserve our iron. Forest protection, without which river improvement cannot be permanent, will at the same time help to postpone the threatened timber famine, and will secure us against a total dearth of timber by providing for the perpetuation of the remaining woodlands. Irrigation will create the means of livelihood for millions of people, and supplies of pure water will powerfully promote the public health. If the policy of waterways improvement here recommended is carried out, it will affect for good every citizen of the Republic. The National Government must play the leading part in securing the largest possible use of our waterways; other agencies can assist, and should assist, but the work is essentially national in its scope.

What Congress Should Do.

The various uses of waterways are now dealt with by Bureaus scattered through four federal Departments. At present, therefore, it is not possible to deal with a river system as a single problem. But the Commission here recommends a policy under which all the commercial and industrial uses of the waterways may be developed at the same time. To that end, Congress should provide some administrative machinery for coordinating the work of the various Departments so far as it relates to waterways. Otherwise there will not only be delay, but the people as a whole will fail to get from our streams the benefits to which they are justly entitled.

The Commission recognizes that the cost of improving our inland waterways will be large, but far less than would be required to relieve the congestion of traffic by railway extension. The benefits of such improvement will be large also, and they will touch the daily life of our people at every point, uniting the interests of all the States and sections of our country. The cost and the benefits should be equitably distributed, by co-operation with the States and the communities, corporations, and individuals beneficially affected. I heartily concur in the Commission's recommendation to this end. Such co-operation should result in united effort in carrying out the great duty of improving our inland waterways. While we delay, our rivers remain unused, our traffic is periodically congested, and the material wealth and natural resources of the country related to waterways are being steadily absorbed by great monopolies.

Schemes of Corporations.

Among these monopolies, as the report of the Commission points out, there is no other which threatens, or has ever threatened, such intolerable interference with the daily life of the people as the consolidation of companies controlling water power. I call your special attention to the attempt of the power corporations, through bills introduced at the present session, to escape from the possibility of Government regulation in the interest of the people. These bills are intended to enable the corporations to take possession in perpetuity of national forest lands for the purposes of their business, where and as they please, wholly without compensation to the public. Yet the effect of granting such privileges, taken together with rights already acquired under States laws, would be to give away properties of enormous value. Through lack of foresight we have formed the habit of granting without compensation extremely valuable rights amounting to monopolies on navigable streams and on the public domain. The repurchase at great expense of water rights thus carelessly given away without return has already begun in the East, and before long will be necessary in the West also. No rights involving water power should be granted to any corporations in perpetuity, but only for a length of time sufficient to allow them to conduct their business profitably. A reasonable charge should of course be made for valuable rights and privileges which they obtain from the National Government. The values for which this charge is made will ultimately, through the natural growth and orderly development of our population and industries, reach enormous amounts. A fair share of the increase should be safeguarded for the benefit of the people, from whose labor it springs. The proceeds thus secured, after the cost of administration and improvement has been met, should naturally be devoted to the development of our inland waterways.

Valuable Natural Asset.

The report justly calls attention to the fact that hitherto our national policy has been one of almost unrestricted disposition and waste of natural resources, and emphasizes the fundamental necessity for conserving these resources upon which our present and future success as a nation primarily rests. Running water is a most valuable natural asset of the people, and there is urgent need for conserving it for navigation, for power, for irrigation, and for domestic and municipal supply.

The Commission was appointed to obtain information concerning our waterways as related to the general welfare. Much work was done, but more remains to be done before a plan for their development can be prepared in detail. We need additional information on the flow of our streams, the condition of channels, the amount and cost of water traffic, the requirements for terminals, the area in each watershed which should be kept under forest, and the means of preventing soil-waste and the consequent damage to our rivers. But it is neither necessary nor desirable to postpone the beginning of the work until all the facts are obtainable. We have suffered heavily in the past from the lack of adequate transportation facilities, and unless a beginning is made promptly we shall suffer still more heavily in the future.

Mississippi Loop of Sea.

Being without funds or an expert staff, the Commission has confined itself to principles affecting the whole problem and the entire country. Its report is a plea, in the light of actual facts, for simplicity and directness in dealing with the great problem of our inland waterways in the interest of the people. It submits no specific plans or recommendations concerning even the most important projects. The first of these of course concerns the Mississippi and its tributaries, whose commercial development will directly affect half our people. The Mississippi should be made a loop of the sea and work upon it should be begun at the earliest possible moment. Only less important is the Atlantic inner passage, parts of which are already under way. The inner passages along the Gulf coast should be extended and connected with the Atlantic waters. The need for the developing of the Pacific coast rivers is not less pressing. Our people are united in support of the immediate adoption of a progressive policy of inland waterway development.

Hitherto our national policy of inland waterway development has been largely negative. No single agency has been responsible under the congress for making the best use of our rivers, or for exercising foresight in their development. In the absence of a comprehensive plan, the only safe policy was one of repression and procrastination. Frequent changes of plan and piecemeal execution of projects have still further hampered improvement. A channel is no deeper than its shallowest reach, and to improve a river short of the point of effective navigability is a sheer waste of all its costs. In spite of large appropriations for their improvement, our rivers are less serviceable for interstate commerce today than they were half a century ago, and in spite of the vast increase in our population and commerce they are on the whole less used.

Definite and Progressive Policy.

The first condition of successful development of our waterways is a definite and progressive policy. The second is a concrete general plan, prepared by the best experts available, covering every use to which our streams can be put. We shall not succeed until the responsibility for administering the policy and executing and extending the plan is definitely laid on one man or group of men who can be held accountable. Every portion of the general plan should consider and so far as practicable secure to the people the use of water for power, irrigation, and domestic supply as well as for navigation. No project should be begun until the funds necessary to complete it promptly are provided, and no plan once under way should be changed except for grave reasons. Work once begun should be prosecuted steadily and vigorously to completion. We must make sure that projects are not undertaken except for sound business reasons, and that the best modern business methods are applied in executing them. The decision to undertake any project should rest on actual need ascertained by investigation and judgment of experts and on its relation to great river systems or to the general plan, and never on mere clamor.

The improvement of our inland waterways can and should be made to pay for itself so far as practicable from the incidental proceeds from water-power and other uses. Navigation should of course be free. But the greatest return will come from the increased commerce, growth, and prosperity of our people. For this we have already waited too long. Adequate funds should be provided, by bond issue if necessary, and the work should be delayed no longer. The development of our waterways and the conservation of our forests are the two most pressing physical needs of the country. They are interdependent, and they should be met vigorously, together, and at once. The questions of organization, powers, and appropriations are now before the [illegible]. There is urgent need of [illegible] decisive action.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests afford in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them; and in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach-tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic drains, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements, caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

ELECTION NIGHTS.

One of the Five Saturnalia of New York City.

New York has five saturnalia every year—New Year's night, Decoration day, Fourth of July, election night and Thanksgiving—and not the least of these is election night. If it is a right first Tuesday of November, the daytime wind will be veering from west to south and back, sun and cloud will equally share the hours between them and a not unnatural quiet, as of political passions hushed under the blanket of the Australian ballot, will prevail. The streets will be rather emptied than filled, and the litter of straw and scrap paper and the ordure and other filth of the great slattern town will blow agreeably about under your feet and into your eyes and teeth. But with the falling of the night there will be a rise of the urban spirits; the sidewalks will thicken with citizens of all ages and sexes and nations, and if you will then seek some large center for the cinematographic dissemination of the election news you will find yourself one of a multitude gloating on the scenes of comedy and tragedy thrown up on the canvas to stay your impatience for the returns. Along the curbstones are stationed wagons for the sale of the wind and string instruments whose raw, harsh discords of whistling and twanging will begin with the sight of the vote from the first precinct. Meantime policemen, nervously fondling their clubs in their hands, hang upon the fringes of the crowd, which is yet so good natured that it seems to have no impulse but to lift children on its shoulders and put pretty girls before it and to caress old women and cripples into favorable positions, so that they may see better. You will wish to leave it before the clubbing begins and either go home to the slumbers which the whistling and twanging will duly attend or join the diners going into or coming out of the restaurants or the throngs strolling down into the fairy realms of Broadway under the flare of the whiskies and the actresses.—W. D. Howells in Harper's Magazine.

ANY ONE CAN HYPNOTIZE.

But It Cannot Be Accomplished With a Mere Glance.

Of course, whoever wants to hypnotize—in fact, no one but a physician ought to do it—must learn the technique and apply it patiently and skillfully. And certainly there are individual differences. Not every one can be deeply hypnotized. With not a few the inhibition goes no further than the inability to open the eyes, while only one out of four enters into strong hypnotic hallucinations. Further, not every one is well prepared to awaken that confidence which is essential and that feeling of repose which guides one over to the dreamy state. The look, the voice, the gestures, the phrases, the behavior, of certain persons make them poor hypnotizers, however well they may understand the tricks. But in principle everybody can hypnotize and can be hypnotized, just as in principle everybody can love and can be loved, and no special mysterious power is needed to fall in love or to awaken love.

Yet, while thus every one can exert hypnotic influence, no one can do it by a mere glance. All the stories of a secret influence by which one man's will gets hold of another man's mind are remains of the mermeric theories of the past. Today we know that everything depends upon the attention and imagination of the hypnotized and that no mysterious fluid can flow over from the mind of the hypnotist to the mind of the subject. The old mystical view of unscientific superstition reached its climax in the prevalent belief that a man could exert secret influence from a distance without the victim's knowledge of the source of the uncanny distortion of his mind. According to this belief, every heinous crime might be committed under that cover. The distant hypnotizer could inflict pain and suffering on his enemy and could misuse the innocent as instruments of his criminal schemes.—Professor Hugo Munsterberg in McClure's Magazine.

LAUGHTER ANALYZED.

The Observations of a Man With a Sensitive Ear.

"Of course you have heard," said the man with a sensitive ear, "a laugh that jarred. I don't mean," he continued, "so much a laugh at an inopportune time—I imagine we have all heard such laughs—as a laugh the quality of which is unpleasant. There is something contagious in laughter of the right kind, even though you may be the object of it. It bubbles from the well of good humor. There is no hidden thought, or 'arriere pensee,' as the French say, behind it. It is the essence of frankness; it is spontaneous and whole souled, and it cleanses the system of the laughter and, too, of the hearer, like a spiritual bath.

"But there are other kinds of laughter. The sneering laugh is perhaps the most familiar. Then there is a quiet laugh, a sibilant, secretive sort of laugh that is quite as certain to mean mischief. Another laugh, disagreeable in its nature, is the high pitched, nervous cachinnation that comes either from embarrassment or is a mere vocal habit. The worst laugh of all, however, to my mind, is that mirthless sound provoked by the distress or embarrassment of others, and it rasps naturally most of all the object calling it forth. A person laughed at and hurt never forgets the experience."—New York Press.

ENGLAND SAYS NO ALUM IN FOOD

and strictly prohibits the sale of alum baking powder—

So does France

So does Germany

The sale of alum foods has been made illegal in Washington and the District of Columbia, and alum baking powders are everywhere recognized as injurious.

To protect yourself against alum, when ordering baking powder,

Say plainly—

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

and be very sure you get Royal.

Royal is the only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar. It adds to the digestibility and wholesomeness of the food.

Time Is Money

Time and tide wait for no man and the accurate marking of its flight oftentimes means much money, either lost or gained, by the man who has a Watch he can always depend upon. The watches we carry are the makes of men who have been in the business of making watches all their life and their fathers were in the same business before them. In a word, these watches represent the acme of perfection and are built to keep accurate time all the time. They cost a little more than a Waterbury or Ingersoll, but in actual value they are cheaper. In all kinds of cases from $10 up.
